

EMPOWER STAFF TO OPTIMIZE INVENTORY AND PROCUREMENT

What can strategic procurement do for you?

As a business owner or manager, you know how important inventory management is to your company's bottom line.

Finding the right products, at the right time and at the right price from reliable suppliers is critical. However, you also know that's just part of the story. Inefficiency is expensive. In order to have a positive effect on the bottom line, companies must find ways to implement cost controls that offer long-term financial benefits. Strategic procurement can free up working capital by reducing inventory.

Agilysys Stratton Warren System (SWS) is designed to improve productivity while reducing labor costs and waste. The system manages the entire inventory and procurement process — from requisition to invoice — and integrates with most leading financial and point-of-sale (POS) software products. Maximize your organization's buying power by aggregating the purchasing of all departments and locations for mission-critical items, as well as for those hundreds of incidentals that add up to big dollars. Agilysys SWS is available as an on-premise solution or through a subscription service.

Streamline the Inventory and Procurement Process

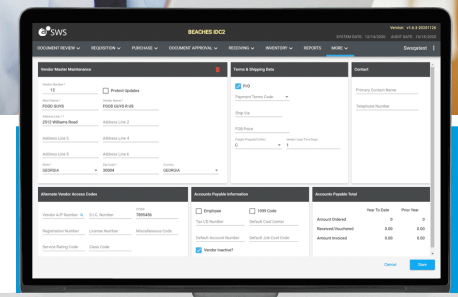

For many companies, profits are eroded during the purchasing, receiving and inventory management processes.

Agilysys SWS automates all aspects of inventory and procurement. For example, the system can automatically detect when an inventory item is running low, generate a purchase order as part of a preexisting contract or issue a request to vendors to bid — all with minimal human intervention. For highly variable food and beverage items, Agilysys SWS can monitor variations in costs and determine which items are high cost/low sales versus those that fall into the more desirable low cost/high sales category.

Save Time and Increase Accuracy

Your purchasing professionals know your company and your industry. Agilysys SWS enables them — and everyone else in your organization — to leverage that knowledge and experience. Tasks that once took hours or days can be done with a few clicks of a mouse. The solution will assist in eliminating time consuming, error-prone paper documents, allowing purchasing professionals to concentrate on the elements of their role in your strategic sourcing process.

Agilysys SWS offers modules that can be acquired and implemented at your pace, enabling you to define the system you need for your business without the cost of extra features you don't need. Optional modules include:

Barcoding

Provides either wireless or wired data collection of physical inventory, allowing users to scan items into the system using the item SKU or UPC label for quick and accurate data collection. The application can be used for receiving, inventory issues or transfers and physical inventory. The module streamlines efficiency in the hospitality industry by standardizing data collection and providing detailed, real-time inventory counts.

Menu/Recipe Analysis

Cross-references recipe items and ingredients, 'flags' recipes for excessive cost, generates detailed shopping lists and provides a nutritional analysis of menu items. The module also enables food and beverage buyers to perform both actual and theoretical cost and sales analysis calculations via a seamless interface with the venue's POS solution. A useful cookbook feature includes systematic plating instructions, recipe information and photos, ensuring consistency from day to day throughout your organization.

Retail

Automates the entire retail process with full open-to-buy, enabling users to calculate and maintain sales prices, markdowns and updates as well as track slow-moving items and minimize pricing errors. The module integrates seamlessly with most POS and back-end financial systems as well as both wireless and wired barcoding devices. Generate a variety of reports, including inventory, on-order, open orders, retail

The subscription service is tailored to organizations that want industry-leading technology but may not have the resources immediately available to invest in the additional staff or infrastructure associated with supporting it. Reduce capital expenditures and focus on core business competencies by allowing Agilysys to attend to systems management.

budget worksheets, retail vendor tracking and sales history to provide an accurate and real-time picture of inventory.

Agilysys SWSDirect

Agilysys SWSDirect provides a convenient, efficient and intuitive shopping cart experience. Enhanced bidding and request for pricing functionality enables buyers to obtain additional bids via the Web, which reduces costs through competitive purchasing. Other features include supplier registration tools and self-service maintenance capabilities. This functionality allows suppliers to register and update company information quickly and easily while providing properties with advanced reporting tools that increase the visibility of documents that may have expired, such as vendor licenses and certificates. Message boards enable purchasing staff and suppliers to communicate more effectively.

Agilysys offers SWS in both an on-premise or a Software as a Service (SaaS) delivery model. SaaS provides functionality to your outlets from centralized servers at the Agilysys data center via secure Internet connections. Some of the benefits of the subscription service program include:

- Server and software performance monitoring and health
- Full system backups
- System recovery
- Latest software and patch updates
- Executable configuration and maintenance
- Online technical support and online knowledge base
- 24x7 telephone technical support
- Access to customer account representatives and installation services
